James Concert Set For Wednesday Top Entertainers To Perform In Initial Major Attraction

The internationally famous Harry James, long acclaimed as one of the most popular dance band leaders in the country, will perform in concert at Morehead State College on Wednesday evening, Sept. 30.

The 8:00 p.m. concert will be held in the 5,000 seat fieldhouse. Tickets are priced at $3.00 a person with student tickets priced at $2.00 when purchased in advance.

The concert will feature the 16-piece James band with Buddy Rich at the drums, Nina Simone and her jazz quartet, vocalist Ruth Price and comedian John Byner.

"This is one of the finest programs we have provided at Morehead State College," said Roger L. Wilson, Dean of Students, "and we extend a cordial invitation to everyone to take advantage of this exciting evening of entertainment."

Wilson pointed out that James spends only four weeks of each year on tour and his appearance in Morehead will be the only trip to Kentucky. The James Band is coming to the region directly from Las Vegas and Hollywood.

Tickets may be purchased at the college business office and Wilson said that special prices will be given high schools which purchase 25 or more tickets.

The James band is the first major attraction of the year at Morehead to be followed by the highly popular Pete Fountain and his jazz group on Friday, Oct. 16. The late Windham Trombone Septet will perform in concert in early January.

We are bringing to Morehead the very top names in the entertainment world," said Dean Wilson, "and with the continued support of both our student body and the people of this region, we will continue to do so."

He pointed out that such big name attractions as the Four Freshmen, the Chad Mitchell Trio and the Buddy Morrow Band are on the Morehead campus last year.

Dr. Gordon Wilson To Head Program On Folklore Oct. 12

Dr. Gordon Wilson, Chairman of the English Department at Western Kentucky State College, will meet with the folklore class at Morehead on October 12.

Dr. Wilson, who has done extensive work in folklore, will speak on the folk speech of Western Kentucky. There will also be a number of Eastern Kentucky folk remedies on display and at least one folk singer at this meeting.

The program will be held in the Bert T. Combs Classroom Building in Room 201 at 6:30 p.m. Dr. George Boswell, Chairman of the English Department, said that all students and faculty members who are interested may attend. No admission will be charged.

Annual High School Band Day Scheduled For October 3

By Donna Griffin and Kathy Shaffer

The annual Morehead State College Band Day will be held on Saturday, October 3. Over 30 bands, from Kentucky and Ohio, will convene at 8:30 p.m. in the Jayne Memorial Stadium for registration.

Each band will have three marches prepared. These marches: "Hands Across the Sea," "La Sorella," and "Officer of the Day," will be directed by Fred J. Marzan. He will be assisted by William Svec, Marching Director, Robert Welch, Student Director, and John Bastalla, graduate asstant to the band.

This mass band concert will be held during the half-time show at the new Breathitt Sports Center when Morehead plays Tennessee Tech for the first home game of the 1964 football season.

The following bands will be participating: Grant County High School, Dry Ridge; Boyd County High School, Ashland; Hazel Green Academy, Hazel Green; Russell High School, Russell; Olive Hill High School, Olive Hill; Bracken County High School, Brookville; Greenup High School, (continued on last page)

'Pap' Adams Joins College Staff As Journalist In Residence

Power "Pap" Adams, one of the best-loved and most highly respected newsmen in Kentucky, has been named a Journalist in Residence at Morehead State College.

Adams, who retired as editor of the Berea Citizen in July after 25 years there, will work with the college publications, the alumni association, area organizations and in other capacities.

This is the first time a newspaperman has assumed such a position at a Kentucky college university.

Adams, who served as president of the Kentucky Press Associations in 1962, was born in Vanceburg in 1899 and graduated from Vanceburg High School. He worked on construction, in steel mills and on various looks of the Ohio River before entering the newspaper profession with the Vanceburg Sun in 1922.

Foster "Pap" Adams "I always had a love for the water and my greatest secret desire was to become a steamboat pilot, he added. When I didn't achieve that dream, I named my column in the Citizen 'The Pilot House.' Adams' column was widely read during his tenure as editor from the early 1950's to the present with some of his most interesting columns written on a trip to Russia.

In 1961, when he was vice-president of the KPA, Adams and several other Kentuckians—including R. F. Reed, a member of the Morehead Board of Regents—spent 21 days in Russia, Poland and Hungary.

Upon his return to the United States, Adams toured Kentucky while representing the KPA and made numerous talks concerning his experiences in Russia.

But one of the greatest experiences of my life was when I met with President Kennedy as part of a group of Kentucky editors," said Adams.

He moved from the Vanceburg Sun to the Pike County News in 1924 and went to Berea College in 1928 to work on the mechanical side of the Berea Citizens. In the early 1950's, he was named editor of the Citizen and Superintendent of the Berea College Press.

During his tenure as President of the Kentucky Press Association, the organization made some of its greatest advancements.

A member of the Christian Church, Adams is also a member of Sigma Delta Chi, the American Legion, a past president of the Berea Kiwanis Club and the Berea Red Cross chapter.

The 'Almost' Tradition — Freshman Week

For a number of the "old-timers" on campus, the absence of the blue and gold beanie on the incoming freshmen is a bad omen. It is an indication that perhaps the supposed-to-be tradition of Freshman Week at Morehead will now join the "also rans" in the annals of the Trail Blazer filler and in the memories of over two thousand sophomores and juniors.

Initiated the week of September 23, 1962, Freshman Week was designed to offer the freshmen their first chance to participate as a group on campus and to get acquainted with the extra-curricular side of campus life.

There was no hazing during the week, only activities designated to fulfill the purpose stated above — a fashion show where appropriate college dress was shown, a tug-of-war, dances, a pep rally around a bonfire built by the freshmen, and a better dress day.

This year, John Collins, manager of the college bookstore, has the beanie. (He ordered them early to prevent the problem that developed last year, when he hadn't been informed until the last minute about the order.) The only problem is, the freshmen aren't buying them. This is probably happening because: (1) they don't see any reason why they should, and (2) they don't even know what the Freshman Week since they haven't been told.

It would be a shame to let such a profitable, memory-filled activity as this die an unappreciated and unused death.

Opportunity Awaits — Attend Tomorrow's Concert

The students of Morehead State College will have the opportunity tomorrow evening to hear one of the great band leaders of all time — Harry James.

This great show, featuring not only Harry James and his 16-piece band but a handful of other stars, is playing all of the major music halls in the eastern United States. And following the performance here, the group will play at Ohio State University the following evening.

The editors predict that nowhere in the country could a student group attend this concert for such a nominal price of $2.00 a person.

Tomorrow night's concert is a campus-wide event put on by the total body for our benefit. The only factor which will keep us from having such outstanding events in the future is our failure to support this event.

We therefore would like to suggest that you give your full support to this event. It's the best in entertainment!

High School Letters Are For High School

Our constant friend Webster has written that the word "taboo" means... a prohibition put upon certain people, things, or acts which make them untouchable, unmentionable, etc. A definite taboo on the Morehead State College campus is the wearing of high school letters on jackets or sweaters.

The letter for Morehead is an "M", not some other part of the alphabet. And for one to wear a letter on campus, one must earn the right.

If you insist on wearing your high school letter, a member of the Morehead Club or "M" club may ask you to remove it.

Your earned the right to wear a letter at a high school, and you didn't want people who hadn't earned a letter to be wearing one. The "M" situation holds true here (along with the fact that this is not, nor ABC). Until you earn a letter at Morehead State College, you shouldn't be a "high school Charlie" and wear one.

The Editor's Desk

Accept a belated greeting, from—welcome to Morehead State College, Kentucky (if you're an out-of-stater), a new football stadium, Harry James, and over-crowded dormitories. Rather than tell you how wonderful Morehead is, how to behave, what to expect, and not to expect (since I'm certain you've already been told these things until you are tired of them), I'll rattle on about other things.

THE LIST

Since coming to college I have carefully compiled a list of personal dislikes. Now, I have an opportunity to list them for your benefit and enlightenment (to save you the trouble of doing it yourself). They are:

1. Burywork.
2. Professors who start classes five minutes early and make up for it by letting them out ten minutes late. (I don't mind getting my money's worth, but this is one gift horse I'd just as soon look in the mouth.)
3. Grill coffee.
4. The grippers who sit on their haunches in the grill drinking coffee (ugh) all day, and complaining about nothing to do, yet never venturing to do anything about it.
5. Classes in which professors insult my intelligence by reading to me in every class period from the text, thereby, insinuating I am illiterate (which may be true, but I'm trying to keep it a secret).
6. Initiations where only a "favored few" receive initiating and the rest of the pledges are ignored, or all are treated in a dangerous manner.
7. Staff members who don't turn in their stories on time.

There are more, but for the moment these will suffice, and I hope it will save you some time in compiling a list of your own.

TRAFFIC RULES STIFFEN

For the benefit of those juniors and seniors who may read this (assuming, of course, that they do) and have worked out of the state or haven't read the papers, Governor Edward Breathitt signed a new traffic law put into effect on August 19.

The new law is much stiffer than any previously in effect in Kentucky, so those with cars had better watch for the black can with bubble-gum machines on top.

The new regulation includes the following penalties for various traffic violations:

Motorists who accrue 12 points on their driving records in a three-year period will lose their driving privilege for six months.

Points are assigned by the State for convictions, forfeiture of bail, or payment of fines with or without court appearances for each of the violations listed.

The new point-system schedule:
Racing—1st offense, 90-day license suspension; 2nd offense, 1-year license suspension; 3rd offense, 3-year license suspension.

Speeding—less than 16 mph over limit, 3 points; 16 to 25 mph over limit, 6 points; 26 mph or more over limit, 90-day license suspension.

Failure to yield to emergency vehicle—4 points.

Driving in violation of State restrictions—90-day suspension.

Passing in a no-passing zone—5 points.

Pasting/stopped school bus with children—5 points.

Driving on wrong side of road—4 points.

Following too closely—4 points.

Running stop sign or electric signal—3 points.

Driving too fast for road conditions—3 points.

Any other moving hazardous violation—3 points.

Two or more violations at one time—6 points.

Tuff. Drive with care (one eye on the road ahead and the other on the rear view mirror).

EARL SMITH MEMORIAL FUND

A friend of ours and of many other students, Earl Smith, was killed in a car accident, along with another Morehead student, Prentice Fish, on May 25. This was a great shock to all of us. Their deaths brought the realization of how uncertain "life" and the future really are.

In regard to this accident, a scholarship has been started in Earl's name. (Andy Offutt, a friend of Earl's, has, through Roger Wilson, Dean of Students, offered to the outstanding male junior, in the field of education at MSC, an annual scholarship of $100.00 for his senior year.)

The recipient is to be chosen by the Division of Professional Education. The award is to be made each year on Honors Day, and is to be known as the Earl Smith Memorial Scholarship Award.

The award will be made annually from Offutt's personal funds, as a tribute to Earl, his widow, and son, and Morehead State College.

ENROLLMENT RECORD BROKEN

We understand that over 3,700 students have registered at Morehead this fall. This number by far exceeds the 3,500 predicted. (It took six like MSC really will have over 3,500 students by 1973.) We will have more exact figures by the next edition.

A CLOSING THOUGHT

A passing word of wisdom to all freshmen who are just starting on the "great journey" into life. Could George Bernard Shaw's comment "We are made wise, not by the recollections of our past, but by the responsibilities of our future."

Regional Campus

Cost Of College Education Up; Number Of Scholarships Rising

By Windeed L. Godwin
Director, Southern Regional Education Board

Anyone who really wants to, can go to college these days. Or can he?

Even if he's a good scholar, ambitious and energetic enough to secure a part-time job, can he raise the necessary $1,500 for a year's total expense at a public college, or $2,500 to attend a private school?

Working your way through college continues to be an American tradition. More than half of the students in Southern colleges and universities are earning part of their school expenses.

But in many cases, a job is not long enough. Scholarships and loans—plus family help—are frequently necessary to make the financial outlay for a single year of college today.

Scholarships are growing in availability in the South and the nation. But they are not keeping pace with the need, particularly in this region. Family incomes run about 25 per cent lower in the South than in the nation and college costs run at high as in the rest of the country.

To get specific, Southern students received some $20 million in scholarship aid from their respective institutions in 1959-1960, the latest figures available. This compared with about $100 million for the nation, not counting non-campus resources like industry and government scholarship programs. While the region has about 20 per cent of the nation's total scholarship funds, it has 55 per cent of its enrollment.

Of the top 50 institutions giving the largest amount of scholarship aid, only 15 are in the South.

A large number of the high school graduates of our area and the nation who want to go to college and have the aptitude are not getting there, strictly for lack of funds. U.S. Commissioner of Education Francis Keppel estimates that 100,000 U.S. high school graduates highly qualified for college are not entering our institutions of higher learning each year. The National Merit Scholarship Corporation is the largest single national agency currently awarding college scholarships. Approximately 500 of our one million Southern college students receive these awards each year, they bring about $1 million in funds, from the Ford and Carnegie foundations, to institutions of our region.

The extensive screening process used to select the Merit Scholars produces a pool of qualified candidates much larger than the number of scholars who are appointed,

Many students for whom business and industry provide scholarships are chosen from this group of amply qualified numbers up.

Including these, business and industry provide at least $17 million annually in this form of student assistance nationally, about $4 million to the South. But much of this is restricted to employees' children. General Motors and Westinghouse Electric lead in this field.

State governments are beginning to play a bigger role each year in the college scholarship scene. A 1959-1960 survey showed that only 11 states in the nation were giving some form of scholarship assistance to "superior students." Now several Southern states provide some measure of general scholarship aid.

These include Louisiana, Maryland, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Virginia. They earmark about $1.75 million annually for this cause.

In the past most state aid has gone to students in specialized, "critical" fields like teaching, medicine, dentistry and nursing. Florida, for example, gives over 400 nursing scholarships and West Virginia, some 100 teacher training scholarships each year. Recipients of such aid are usually required to pursue their vocation in their state of residence for a certain time or re-pay the loan.

DORM COUNCIL ELECTS OFFICERS

Joseph G. Halsey was elected President of the Waterfield Hall Dormitory Council at the first meeting of the Council.

The other officers are Wayne Smiley, Vice President, Lemmie Arnold, Secretary, and Giles Farley, Treasurer.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

I am very happy here at O.U., but I certainly do not like Morehead and all the little things that make it such a wonderful school—the beauty of the campus, the spirit and the friendliness of the student body, and the co-operative faculty and administration.

I like graduate school fine, and I know that Morehead has given me a good educational background for my studies.

Best wishes to you and your staff this year and I know you will continue to publish one of the best quality newspapers of any college or University. See you at Homecoming.

Sincerely

Ron Lykins

Dear Editor,

It has been brought to our attention that there is a certain group of underclass women who shall remain nameless who are not acting in accord with the principles of Better Dress Week, which should be followed throughout the semester.

These "ladies" were wearing one of the most friendly and torturous items of grooming apparel. If one has ever been attacked by a group of these little monsters, they will know what I am speaking. For the Freshmen without any experience in this field, we are speaking of haircurlers. Medusa could not have looked worse had the put out of her pad with curlers in her snail!

We heartily recommend to the Council of Student Affairs that hair curlers be disallowed on campus.

Respectfully,
James V. Martin

B. Pat's Corner

TRAIL BLAZER SPORTS EDITOR

"Oneheckava football team!" This was the feeling of one Morehead football fan after seeing the Eagles take their first two victories of the 1964 football season.

We all have plenty to be proud of as the Eagles put together a fine offense and a strong defense to turn back the Bulldogs of Butler, 26-7, and the Big Green of Marshall, 6-0, in the annual Shrine Game.

The Eagles now have to face a strenuous test when the Golden Eagles of Tennessee Tech invade Morehead in the New Breathitt Sports Center on October 3.

"Our biggest problem now is to keep from getting stale with a week's layoff before our OVC opener with Tech," said coach Penny. "Last year we had the same situation prior to the Tech game and felt we were not at our sharpest; so we're changing our practice schedule this year."

Penny felt that Tech's surprising 27-0 loss to Arkansas State was not indicative of their true strength. "We know that Tech has a real fine football team and we are going to prepare for them, knowing that they have some tough breaks against Arkansas State."

Halfback Tally Johnson is the squad's leading ground-gainer with 97 yards in 21 rushes for a 4.6 average; while fullback Russ Campbell has picked up 56 yards in 31 carries for a 4.5 average.

Quarterback Mike Gottfried has completed 13 of 29 passes for 170 yards and two touchdowns, while Tally Johnson is his favorite target with 4 receptions for 25 yards. Halfback Dennis Brown is the team's leading scorer with 12 points, while sophomore fullback Scotty Russell has the best punting average of 37.0 yards a boot.

As a team, Morehead is averaging 280 yards a game while limiting opponents to a 190 average.

The October 3 game with Tennessee Tech will be the first game played in the new 10,000 seat stadium in the Breathitt Sports Center. Bands from throughout the region will be on campus for the annual High School Band Day.

Gottfried receives "Most Valuable Award"

Congratulations go out to Mike Gottfried, our 6-0, 170-pound quarterback from Crestline, Ohio. Mike was named the Shrine Game's most valuable player as he hit on 10 to 24 passes for 117 yards and the game's only touchdown. He also was effective on the ground with one 10-yard gain which came at a crucial moment on a third-down-and-five situation. Coach Penny had nothing but praise for his talented quarterback. "Mike showed great poise and called a splendid game," said Penny.

GOTTFRIED HONORED

Sports Magazine, in its October issue, says Willie Shoemaker, jockey, was the highest paid man in sports participation in 1963. He made $250,000.

Professional bowlers have the highest average income, $20,000 per man, even though the best paid boxer, Dick Weber, made $83,000 and was topped by several other athletes.

The figures, all estimated:

Sport - Average per man	Individual High
Bowling $20,000	Dick Weber - $ 80,000
Baseball $15,000	Willie May - $105,000
Hockey $10,000	Googie Howe - $ 30,000
Football $14,000	Jim Brown - $ 55,000
Basketball $13,000	Wilt Chamberlain - $ 55,000
Auto Races $12,000	Parnell Jones - $ 85,000
Jockeys $ 9,000	Shoemaker - $252,000
Golf $ 7,000	Arnold Palmer - $130,000
Harness Drivers $ 7,000	Billy Haughton - $ 90,000

BAND AND CHEERLEADERS TO BE CONGRATULATED

The Morehead State Marching Band and our cheerleaders deserve a great deal of praise because of the fine performances they gave at the Shrine Game. The band, over 100 strong, had only two days to prepare for their half-time performance and did a very commendable job under the direction of Fred Marzan and Bill Sveck. It is a real tribute to the band members, majorettes, and their directors for the fine performance at the game.

The cheerleaders were placed in a similar situation as they had only two practices together. This is true college spirit, and I hope that during the season they will catch on like "wild fire" because it is one of the most important elements for a winning season. So remember, BE GOOD SPORTS... FANS.

Eagles To Face Tech In O.V.C. Opener

By Quentin Callahan

The Morehead State College Eagles will open their first home encounter against Tennessee Tech, Cookeville, Tennessee, Saturday, October 3, at 2:00.

Tech will have the honor of playing in the first game in the new Breathitt Sports Center, which has a 10,000 seat capacity. The day will also be highlighted with Band Day.

The Eagles will take a 2-0 win-loss record into their first O.V.C. year.

Last year the Eagles topped their O.V.C. opener to Tech, at Cookeville, in a hard fought contest 21-17.

Morehead, who looked strong offensively as well as defensively defeated Butler University, Indianapolis, Indiana, 27-6 and topped a strong Marshall University team, Huntington, W. Va., 6-0.

Morehead, who has a veteran line back this season, has shown a great defense against their first two encounters.

The Eagles were praised highly for their defensive work against Tennessee Tech and pleased a standing room crowd of 8,500 in the fifth annual Shrine Bowl game at Ashland.

Mike Gottfried, junior quarterback, who was voted the most valuable player in the Shrine game, will lead the Eagles, Saturday, against Tech.

Mike, who has led the Eagles in offense, plays good ground game as well as having a fine aerial attack.

Tech, who had a poor first showing, battled Arkansas State for a 7-7 tie. Tech, with 22 returning lettermen, battled Chattanooga at Tech for their first home contest last weekend.

The first O.V.C. contest for the Tennessee Tech Golden Eagles will be with Morehead.

Morehead, who had an open date last Saturday, should be in good condition for the encounter with Tech.

The Eagles, who had a poor finish last year, should be one of the prime contenders for the Conference Championship this year.

Gottfried Most Valuable Player

Eagles Topple Marshall 6-0 In Fifth Annual Shrine Game

By Herbert Lee Sparrow

Trail Blazer Sports Writer

The Morehead State College Eagles won a hard-fought defensive battle with Marshall University, clipping the Big Green 6-0 to capture the fifth annual Shrine Bowl laurels before an estimated 8,500 fans in Putnam Stadium.

It was a rugged test of two stout lines throughout the night with the aerial artistry of Mike Gottfried supplying offensive highlights.

Gottfried, who completed 10 of 24 passes for 117 yards, offered most of the spark in the defensively-minded contest, and was named the game's Most Valuable Player.

Gottfried's 12-yard scoring pass to Dennis Brown with 12:39 left in the final quarter was the deciding factor in the game. Freshman halfback Tommy Gray had intercepted a pass from Big Green quarterback Howie Miller, after Marshall had penetrated deep into Eagle territory.

He ran the interception back 56 yards to the Marshall four-yard line. Tally Johnson and Russ Campbell backed the line but managed only a total gain of one yard. Then Gottfried passed left incomplete.

Marshall took over and James Brown punched out six yards in two carries and a pass by Miller was incomplete.

At that point John Bentley backed up in the end zone to punt. The snap from center was bad. Bentley chased the ball and tried to get off his kick but 256-pound Morg-head tackle Paul Conner partially blocked it. The ball rolled out to the 15 and from there Johnson ran for two yards. Gottfried missed on a pass but on the next play hit Brown who stepped over into paydirt. Johnson's kick was wide.

Gottfried attempted eight passes in the first nine plays from scrimmage. The Eagle signal-caller could complete only three of them, however, and Morehead was forced to punt.

Quarterback Miller was unable to get anything going for his team and a Marshall punt set the stage for a more conservative first quarter.

Both teams stuck to the ground and made considerable gains, but neither was enough for any real threat.

A sustained march by the Eagles, which carried them to Marshall's 35, fell short when Gottfried tried to go for the air again. There were several threats during the first half but neither topped impressive drives by both teams.

Marshall penetrated the Eagles line at one time, moving all the way to the defense's 17, but a Miller pass was snatched out of the air by Morehead's Brown to halt that drive.

Johnson led Eagle rushers with an average of 4.2 yards in 13 carries; for 55 yards. Campbell had 2.7 in 10; for 27 yards.

Jack Mahone picked up an average of 8.8 yards in 19 carries for Marshall.

NEW SECURITY OFFICER — Russell Kirk has been named Chief Director of Security at Morehead State College. Kirk is an experienced policeman and has worked in law-enforcement most of his life.

Russell Kirk Named As Head Of Security On MSC Campus

By David Littleton
Trail Blazer News Writer

Russell L. Kirk has been named Chief Director of Security at Morehead State College.

Kirk, who has been associated with enforcing the law most of his life, will be the coordinator between Morehead State College and the Morehead City Police Department.

Kirk's duties include setting up a control for traffic, and a system for security, directing traffic at ball games and other college activities and various other jobs. "I've even been getting up at four in the morning to help with the moving of the streets on campus," he said.

AT LOUISVILLE

Before coming to Morehead State College, Kirk was Captain of the police department for seven years at Stanford Field, a Louisville airport. "My most interesting experience while there," he said, "was working with the F. B. I. on the security problems when President Eisenhower and the late President Kennedy came to Louisville. People want to get up close and touch the Presidents and don't realize all the confusion and trouble they cause."

"Now that I'm at Morehead," Kirk said, "I want to work with the student council on problems."

And feel that all problems can be worked out to the student's advantage. I am willing to work any way I can, and with anyone who has a problem," he said.

Kirk was also City Judge for the city of Paintsville for four years. He attended Morehead State College and played on the freshman football team.

Kirk and his wife are now residing in Morehead. Elaine, his wife, is working on Morehead's Campus as the director of the closed circuit television station at Breckinridge Training School.

Plans Under Way For Radio Station

By Bonnie West

Morehead's first campus radio station is to be located in the Bert Combs Classroom Building. Equipment will be situated on the second and fourth floors.

Donald Holloway of the Speech Department will direct all station affairs.

Plans are in progress and with construction permitting, applications to the Federal Communications Commission will be processed for a ten watt educational F.M. radio station. Likewise audio equipment is presently being ordered and we hope to install equipment for broadcasting within the year," he said.

Holloway also said that the broadcasts would cover the approximate vicinity of Morehead campus and the major part of the city. Finances are to come from state funds under the division of Fine Arts.

The radio station, to eventually be manned by a staff of forty, will broadcast at sports, and special events. And since the radio broadcasts will be strictly educational, there will be no commercials.
